

THE BALL IS SET ROLLING

Rising from a prolonged task of dictating to Mr. Creedon, the private secretary, Governor Carter gleefully exclaimed to the Advertiser reporter on the Capitol round:

"I am just scintillating with ideas about a great commercial gathering here in the midst of the Pacific—of consuls and merchants from all directions interested in the development of commerce—and trying hard to master the names of places, heretofore unknown and hard to pronounce, scattered around the coasts of this ocean."

"What I have been busy with today is the general laying out of the project of a Pan-Pacific Congress—the time, the place, the opportunity."

"I am putting on paper the various suggestions of the committee, in order to send a statement around to different organizations, the names of which are to be furnished by Mr. Paris, the committee secretary."

"Yes, I have also dictated the draft of a letter to Secretary Root, laying the project before him for consideration."

"Any time of year for the Congress would be suitable so far as Hawaii is concerned. It ought to be held sometime in the year 1907, for the next is the Presidential election year."

"If this community takes hold of it properly, I do not see why Congress should not give it assistance—such as providing transportation for the delegates. This community could provide for taking care of them while here, to a great extent, probably through the hospitality of volunteers."

Governor Carter showed the reporter a list of consuls stationed at Pacific ports. There are 20 consuls-general, 50 consuls and 66 vice consuls, a total of 136 from which to derive the personnel of a Pan-Pacific Consular Congress. There are eight consuls in Chile alone.

The ball has surely been set rolling.

HAWAII ADJUDGED GOOD FOR RUBBER

WASHINGTON, December 20.—The United States will have imported an aggregate of nearly $50,000,000 worth of crude India rubber at the close of the present year, according to a statement made public today by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor. The value of the India rubber imports has increased more than 200 per cent. in a decade. The United States consumes more than one-half of the world's production, and the enormous growth in the importations is attributed to the popularity of the bicycle and automobile, coupled with the increased use of electricity.

The statement says the indications seem to justify the belief that the Philippine and Hawaiian Islands are capable of producing large quantities of this article as a result of this Government's establishment of nurseries in those possessions for the distribution of rubber plants for use of rubber plantations.

HE CARRIED SOME FIRE.

A Chinaman wandered upon the Inter-island wharf yesterday forenoon carrying an umbrella. As he passed the watchman that official detected an odor of burning cloth. He located it in the pake's umbrella. He yelled to the owner and that individual thought the fire was on his coat. He ran around much as a cat chases its tail until the flames reached his head. Then he rushed wildly to the edge of the wharf and threw the ruined rain deflector into the harbor.

MOTHERS

should know. The troubles with multitudes of girls is a want of proper nourishment and enough of it. Now-a-days they call this condition by the learned name of Anemia. But words change no facts. There are thousands of girls of this kind anywhere between childhood and young ladyhood. Disease finds most of its victims among them. Some of them are passing through the mysterious changes which lead up to maturity and need especial watchfulness and care. Alas, how many break down at this critical period; the story of such losses is the saddest in the history of home. The proper treatment might have saved most of these household treasures, if the mothers had only known of WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION and given it to their daughters, they would have grown to be strong and healthy women. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. In building up pale, puny, emaciated children, particularly those troubled with Anemia, Scrofula, Rickets, and Bone and Blood diseases, nothing equals it; its tonic qualities are of the highest order. A Medical Institution says: "We have used your preparation in treating children for coughs, colds and inflammation; its application has never failed us in any case, even the most aggravated bordering on pneumonia." The more it is used the less will be the ravages of disease from infancy to old age. It is both a food and a medicine,—modern, scientific, effective from the first dose, and never deceives or disappoints. "There is no doubt about it." Sold by all chemists here and throughout the world.

DOES NOT LOOK WELL

(From Saturday's Advertiser.) A letter from President Pinkham of the Board of Health to Governor Carter was given out for publication yesterday, in which the writer gives information of questionable conduct on the part of Japanese candidates for license to practice medicine.

Mr. Pinkham utters the opinion that "the medical and professional ethics of very many Japanese physicians do not correspond to those expected of and practised by physicians of the Anglo-Saxon race." If the Japanese doctors confined their practice to their own race, he thinks the force of criticism might be slightly abated in their behalf on the ground of custom. Proceeding to deal with specific matters, Mr. Pinkham makes the following statement:

"I doubt if the present Board of Medical Examiners can be imposed upon, as their method of conducting examinations in the Japanese language (under protest) would seem to exclude any possibility of collusion or fraud."

"At the present time there are three Japanese candidates before the Board of Medical Examiners. One of them I am convinced has been practising medicine at Hilo, Hawaii, and vicinity under the subterfuge of acting as aid to a licensed physician."

"It takes charity of judgment not to severely condemn certain Oriental practices. An American would not receive the slightest leniency under the following circumstances:

"A member of the board has been approached by the interpreter for these candidates with a proposition that as he gets no pay for making these examinations they will pay him well for the time consumed."

"There was sent to his residence a most elegant and expensive present, presumably with the compliments of the season. Although there exists no personal acquaintance, it will be retained simply as evidence."

"Another member had a similar gift tendered him, but sent it back saying his acquaintance had been limited to one official interview and did not justify such acceptance."

"The third member was interviewed, but beyond the inquiry as to whether the examination would be hard or easy, no advances were made."

"The board, of course, is above temptation or influence, but here is an unquestionable attempt to tamper with and influence the Board of Medical Examiners."

"Such an attempt among Anglo-Saxon candidates would result in the Board of Health refusing a license on ethical grounds, no matter what the professional qualifications."

"I presume the matter will pass as an incident."

WM. HAYWOOD DIES IN NEW MEXICO

FORT BAYARD, N. M., December 19.—William Haywood, former Consul-General at Seoul, Korea, died today at the government sanatorium of pulmonary tuberculosis. He came here one month ago, but his condition was hopeless. Mrs. Haywood arrived in time to be present at his death and returned to Washington today. The remains will follow later.

William Haywood entered the State Department as a clerk when a young man.

WM. HAYWOOD.

man. He attracted the favorable notice of James G. Blaine, and as long as the latter lived was his protégé. Through Blaine's influence he was appointed Consul General to Hawaii about 1895 or 6, and he retained that lucrative office until the organization of the Territory. He then became Collector of Internal Revenue, and a few months later was selected as the representative at Washington of the Commercial bodies of Honolulu. He resigned this position a little more than a year ago. A few months ago he was appointed Consul General at Seoul. He went to his post but his health did not permit him to remain there and he went to New Mexico seeking health. His wife was Miss Wilson, one of the most prominent lawyers in the United States. They have several children.

TOPSY-TURVY WATERFALLS

One of the picturesque sights on the trip to the Pali these windy days is the series of waterfalls on both sides of Nuuanu valley. The nearer one approaches to the Pali gap the more the waterfalls increase in number. On the Waikiki side they are thin ribbons of silver starting, apparently, from the cloud banks which envelop the peaks and running down the cliffs into ravines.

On the Ewa side, however, the waterfalls, although they start from the dense green with which the mountains are carpeted, fail to descend the mountain sides as waterfalls. As the water surges over the edge of the cliffs it is caught by the wind and thrown upward in the form of spray. It is a curious sight to see the water descend forty or fifty feet, perhaps, and suddenly to be caught by a gust of wind and sent back. Often the spray is carried southward across the face of the cliff.

SIMSTER ORDER FOR RECRUITS

CINCINNATI, December 18.—Following close upon the Japanese agitation and the talk of complications over the school question in San Francisco, which is said may possibly result in war, an order received by the general recruiting officer here, Captain M. M. Maxson, is considered significant. It is considered here as the most extraordinary order ever sent out by the War Department in times of peace regarding enlisting men. The order is signed by F. C. Ainsworth, military secretary, and is in part as follows:

"Recruits are needed in large numbers for the coast artillery, the field artillery, the white infantry and the white cavalry; recruiting officers are enjoined to redouble their efforts to secure for these arms desirable recruits. It is urgently necessary that recruiting in all recruiting districts shall be developed to the greatest practicable extent."

"The necessity for developing to the utmost recruiting in the large cities is especially emphasized, and recruiting officers stationed therein who have not already as many auxiliary stations within the city limits as can be operated profitably are particularly enjoined to take the proper steps to increase the number of such auxiliary stations at the earliest practicable date."

Captain M. M. Maxson admitted that he had received a copy of the above order. He stated that he had notified the War Department that two members of the party will leave for Hamilton and Middletown. Captain Maxson would not comment on the order. The Government has particularly notified recruiting officers not to seek for soldiers among negroes.

Kaufman was a 2 to 1 favorite over George Gardner, up to the night of the fight.

LOS ANGELES, HAWAII AND THE TOURIST CONDITIONS

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 12th, 1906.

Editor Advertiser: Here in the midst of the pleasure-seeker's center of the United States, one feels how futile are our ordinary efforts to attract the attention of the great mass of travelers of America. When, three years ago, we began the endeavor to attract pleasure seekers to the middle of the Pacific none of us, perhaps, realized what an immense task there was before us, and yet the results have been not entirely disappointing. It is enough to make one tired to stop here for a considerable length of time and then realize how much more the thousands of frost-biting pilgrims would get out of their mid-winter holiday, if they could spend the months under the bright skies and in the balmy atmosphere of Hawaii, than is possible to them here.

Four weeks have we been here and not more than a half dozen days have approximated the worst Honolulu weather. The life, the scores of things to do and see, the dozens of side trips, are hour-filling and tedious-dispelling, but to one who knows, the difference is really tremendous. The sun shines brilliantly, when it does shine, and the air has life and vigor in it, when it is not filled with fog or sand, but how one does miss the velvet smoothness of the softly blowing trades which mass the clouds behind Kona-huanui and spread them over the western skies in fantastic shapes, which serve only to heighten rather than to obscure the sunshine.

It has been a source of the keenest pleasure to drop into the office of the Hawaii Promotion Committee here and see the constantly growing mass of inquiry. While looking over the files of the Advertiser here at least a half dozen times have parties of from four to six persons of eastern travelers dropped in for questions and general information as well as printed matter and both the Pacific Mail and Oceanic Companies' agents say that inquiry for transportation was never better. The choice of office and representative here seems to have been most fortunate. So many travelers' interests center in the Travel and Hotel Bureau that Hawaii information gets wide distribution all the time. From what is apparent here it is a question of what the steamers will carry during this year, and if it were possible for people to sail for Hawaii without having to go to San Francisco and bear the discomforts of a stop in that city, it would seem possible to fill a ship like the Alameda once a month.

There is a very friendly attitude of hotel men toward the Hawaii agent, L. L. Whitlock, which must account in some part for the amount of inquiry concerning Hawaiian trips. Every hotel and railroad office knows just where to send people who want definite information and there seems every reason to believe that the usefulness of Sometime in February the Knights of Pythians will move into their new hall in the Harrison block, corner Fort and Beretania streets.

The Pythians, comprising three flourishing lodges, have leased the entire second or upper floor. The lodge room, which will be one of the largest in Honolulu, will occupy about half the floor at the Waikiki end of the building. The other half, fronting on Fort and Beretania streets, will be used as a recreation hall and will be rented for entertainments, dances, etc.

The furnishings for the lodge room and ante-rooms will be elaborate. The Pythians anticipate having one of the most complete and ornate lodge halls in the Territory.

The banquet hall will have a capacity of about 150 guests.

The Pythian lodge now occupy the old lodge room known as Harmony hall on King street opposite the Young hotel. Besides these there are the Eagles, Sons of St. George, Masters and Pilots Association and one or two other associations, all of which will accompany the Pythians to the new hall. The hall will be used every night in the week and on Sundays as well.

FRISCO HIGH SCHOOLS ARE OPEN TO JAPANESE

SAN FRANCISCO, December 15.—"Japanese children who have passed the grammar grades have not been and will not be debarred from the high schools."

This statement was made by President Altman of the Board of Education. Accordingly, if any Japanese sees fit to pursue the higher education in so far as the public schools of the city can make a pathway for him, there will be no bar after he passes through the Oriental school. It is only in the grammar and primary school that objection is made to the presence of Japanese, and the chief objection in those grades is to grown men.

"The Board of Education will stand pat in the position taken," said Mr. Altman. "We have proceeded according to law, and it is now the Federal Government's move."

PORTLAND TO HELP HILO.

The trustees of the Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting yesterday morning, adopted a resolution in favor of a Government appropriation for the improvement of the harbor at Hilo on the Island of Hawaii. The improvement of this harbor will mean an increase of trade between Portland and Hilo. There is at present no dock at that port, ships being compelled to use lighters in loading and unloading.—Portland Oregonian.

Tex Ricard offers $50,000 for a match between Jeffries and Jack Johnson. It is probable that the former will accept.

LANAI CASE DRAWN OUT

(From Saturday's Advertiser.) Not until some time after a week from Monday next will Judge De Bolt decide the Lanai injunction case. As far as Governor Carter is concerned the temporary injunction was dissolved at noon yesterday, the court holding that the Judiciary had no power over the Executive to restrain the latter's discretion in approving of a public transaction.

All the forenoon session had been taken up with argument on the Attorney General's motion to dissolve the injunction as it related to the Governor.

In the afternoon the hearing was on the demurrer of Land Commissioner Pratt to the petition of L. L. McCandless for injunction. At 5 o'clock Judge De Bolt first suggested a continuance and, counsel on both sides not wishing that, then a submission of the points at issue on briefs.

Accordingly it was arranged that the brief for the respondent be filed by Tuesday morning, that for the petitioner by Friday and the reply brief for the respondent by the following Monday. So not until Judge De Bolt has all these briefs in hand can he finally consider his decision.

Mr. Gear in the morning tried to have the hearing further continued until January 3. He stated that he had written to the Attorney General of the United States for an opinion on the question, and he suggested that the court cable to the same functionary for advice upon the course to be pursued.

Judge De Bolt considered that it was a matter for himself to pass upon and directed the argument to proceed, first on the motion to dissolve the temporary injunction and next on the demurrer.

Attorney General Peters opened the argument in the Governor's case, quoting many authorities to show that the Territorial courts have no jurisdiction over the official acts of the Governor. He contended that if the proposed exchange of lands was illegal there was a remedy against the person to whom the public lands were transferred, a bill of equity to set the sale aside.

Gov. D. Gear replied for the petitioner, quoting some cases where courts in the States took jurisdiction over the official doings of governors.

The court did not deem it necessary to rule on the question of jurisdiction, but held that no act of the Governor had been placed in issue by the petition. Thus far the Governor had only approved of a proposed act. If such act was illegal the remedy would be complete if the Commissioner of Public Lands were enjoined from its commission. Hence the temporary writ, so far as it affected the Governor, was dissolved.

Deputy Attorney General Milverton in the afternoon presented a complete argument for the demurrer of the Land Commissioner. A host of authorities was cited to show that a private taxpayer could not interfere to prevent any official act, even if illegal, unless he were liable to personal loss or injury from the act. Argument was also presented to show statutory authority for the proposed exchange of lands, when the lands desired by the government in the deal were to be devoted exclusively to public purposes as in this case.

Mr. Gear, whose argument was interrupted at 5 o'clock by the court's suggestion of a continuance as above stated, argued that the Federal law of the Organic Act prohibited the sale of more than one thousand acres. Another point he offered was that a taxpayer was personally interested where a loss of revenue was to result from an act, as in this case through the stopping of rentals to the government from the Lanai lands.

Judge De Bolt, in expressing his desire for the submission of briefs, said the court wished full enlightenment particularly on the question of whether the limitation of sales to 1000 acres applied to exchanges, also on the question of the competency of a private taxpayer to take proceedings where revenue was involved.

TO DEVELOP WATER POWER OF JAPAN

Julius M. Howells, a well-known electrical engineer of California, passed through Honolulu on the Mongolia en route to Japan where he is to execute some important commissions in electrical engineering. Mr. Howells is an old friend of H. P. Wood, secretary of the Promotion Committee. During yesterday forenoon Mr. Howells and family were taken to various points of interest by Mr. Gartley.

Mr. Howells is to plan for harnessing the waters of some mountains near Tokyo which will be utilized in developing electrical power that will be sent across to the city of Tokyo and other places and used for electric street railways, lighting and power.

When the Mongolia went on the reef at Midway several months ago, Mr. Howells was a passenger. His faith in the vessel prompted him to take passage again on the vessel on his return trip to the Orient.

PUNCH CARTOONS UNCLE SAM.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Punch's chief cartoon today shows a frock-coated little Japanese, with documents under his arm labeled "Japanese treaty rights in the United States," raising his hat and addressing a conventional figure of Uncle Sam, who stands in his office, with a telephone receiver to his ear. The Japanese asks: "May I ask you the United States?" "Waai," replies Uncle Sam, "I can't say right away, I'm just consulting California on that very point."

WHERE AX WILL FALL

There is no likelihood whatever that Harry Murray will be retained as chief clerk of the Sheriff's office when Sheriff Brown gives way to Sheriff-elect Iaukea. Harry Murray, as well as Henry Vida, the Assistant Sheriff, and many of those occupying clerical positions are slated to go, and in many instances their places have already been tentatively filled.

There are a large number of applicants for Harry Murray's position. Murray, as chairman of the County Republican Committee, could hardly expect to be retained under a Democratic Sheriff. The same is true with the position of Henry Vida, which may not be filled directly. It is understood that the place has been offered to one or two persons, and at least one has declined the offer.

In the Deputy Sheriff's office there may be several changes. Kalepou, who was elected to the Legislature, will naturally have to vacate. There may be one or two changes among the turnkeys and among the receiving clerks. It is certain that at least one captain of police is slated to go and that his position is already filled.

The detective force will undergo a complete change from top to bottom. Rose and the Leals being numbered on the dead list. Among this force are several so-called "specials" under pay, including Hawaiians and Asiatics. Apana, the Chinese policeman, is doomed to get the same keen edge. There are sure to be changes in the harbor police. Pete Baron, put on as a special just before election, will undoubtedly be among the "has beens" after the first Tuesday in January.

Sheriff-elect Iaukea will, according to custom, call in all police commissions and badges and keys to telegraph boxes, and release the same to those whom he will put on his own list. It is quite likely that, during the coming week, Col. Iaukea will spend some time at the police station to learn something of its workings under the direction of Sheriff Brown.

A KOREAN FOUND BOUND TO TREE

HILO, December 28.—A Honokaa Korean was found yesterday morning tied to a tree, where he had been all night. His countrymen had bound him as was done in the former Hamakua case.

W. B. CASTLE JR.'S BABE DISCOVERY

An Eastern paper says: The Harvard College Library has just received a complete set, 635 numbers, of the Spectator, published in the early part of the eighteenth century. Before the set which Harvard has acquired was discovered it was thought that no complete set existed. Of the first series, the Harvard Library, the Bodleian Library at Oxford University, and the British Museum had complete sets, but no complete file of the second series was known. For years the British Museum has offered a large sum for such a set, but search for it was fruitless.

It was by chance that Harvard stumbled across the complete set. It had belonged to a Mr. Bement of Philadelphia, and along with a part of his collection was turned over to Rosenbach & Co. for sale. This firm deals in pictures and was unaware of the value of the volumes.

The set was listed in their catalogue at $500 and was discovered there by W. R. Castle, instructor in English, and Glidden Osborne, the Harvard football player, who is a collector of rare volumes. They called attention to the find, and without delay $500 was sent to Philadelphia, and the books came to Cambridge. The set is worth many times what the college paid for it, besides being one of the biggest literary discoveries of recent years. To add to the value of the collection the binding was done by Reviere.

SAY PRISONERS GET BEST OF TREATMENT

Charlie Santos, who has for some time past had a unique opportunity of studying the treatment of prisoners in Oahu Jail, disagrees with statements in a letter published by an evening paper yesterday, to the effect that convicts are poorly fed and subjected to other hardships.

The letter was signed Philip Naone but Santos said last night that it was written not by Naone, but by a man who used to be a trusty and who was recently put to work with the Molligh gang on account of some trouble he had with a guard.

"The prisoners are very well treated," said Santos, "and have no cause for complaint whatever. All are treated alike in the matter of meals, except the trustees, who fare a little better than the rest. The food is plentiful and good. The treatment of prisoners by the prison guards is also very good."

As proof of his assertions Santos stated that during the eleven months he consumed in doing his "bit," he gained fourteen pounds in weight, notwithstanding that he was working with an outside gang all the time.

HAM MUFFINS.

Cream one-fourth cupful of butter, add gradually nearly three-fourths of a cupful of cold boiled ham, chopped fine, also a well beaten egg; then alternately one cupful of graham flour and one cupful of white flour, sifted, with three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a cupful of milk. Bake in a hot, well buttered muffin pan about twenty-five minutes.
